Subject: Redistricting is Coming! Indivisible TX Lege Actions for the Week
Date: Tuesday, December 1, 2020 10:18:11 PM

Hi y'all,

Hope everyone had a safe and happy Thanksgiving and were able to connect with friends and family in a creative way. I'll keep this email short. In addition to the actions below, please continue to call Governor Abbott to push him on COVID response efforts in the state. Our numbers are far too high, and rising.

1. Learn how to give Redistricting Testimony

Attend the League of Women Voters and Fair Maps Texas' training this Thursday from noon to 2 pm CST. This training will help Texans prepare testimony to submit to the House and Senate Redistricting Committee. Invited speakers include Stephanie Swanson, Issue Chair of Redistricting for the League of Women Voters of Texas and Joaquin Gonzales, Staff Attorney with the Texas Civil Rights Project. Invite your friends and fellow activists!

2. Get a preview of the 2021 Legislative Session

Attend the Texas Tribune's Virtual Symposium Previewing the 2021 Legislative Session noon to 1 pm CST December 7 - 11. The Texas Tribune will host lawmakers, state officials, and members of the Texas media to discuss top legislative priorities for members of the House and Senate, ranging from redistricting to budget shortfalls, plus the state's political and economic future. 2021 will bring a whirlwind of a session, for sure, and its impacts to the people of Texas will have widespread and lasting impacts.

3. Provide Unofficial Redistricting Testimony

Join Fair Maps Texas on December 8 or December 10, both at 6 pm to provide unofficial testimony on redistricting. The majority of the Legislative Redistricting Committees' planned hearings were cancelled in 2020 due to COVID-19 concerns. The state legislature's rules do not allow for virtual hearings, so Fair Maps Texas is hosting its own hearings and transcribing all testimony that will be submitted directly to both the House and Senate Redistricting Committees as part of the official record. This is your chance to make your voice heard!
